

IS KILLED BY HIS YOUNG SON

Former Patient at Insane Asylum
Was Affected With Dangerous
Malady at Butchering Time.

STAUNTON, Va., Nov. 30.—With a full discharge of shot having passed through his brain, Jacob Nichols, aged 40, a furloughed patient of the Western State Insane Asylum, died 18 hours after the shot was inflicted by his son Clyde, aged 18, in a scuffle of the gun.

The elder Nichols was always affected with a dangerous blood lust after butchering time. He had just finished butchering a beef and had returned from Harrisonburg, where he went to sell the beef. He brought home a jug of whisky, and on his arrival home became violent, beat his wife and threatened to kill the whole family, it is claimed.

Clyde was endeavoring to conceal the firearms about the house to avoid a possible tragedy when the father grabbed the gun and in the tussle following it was discharged.

LEFT FORTUNE TO SWEETHEART

Young Woman Who is the Sole Support of Her Aged Mother, is Beneficiary in Will.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 30.—Mary A. Leech, a glove buyer in a department store here, and the sole support of her aged mother, is given an annuity of $1,000 and the dividends from 50 shares of valuable stock by the terms of the will of the late Frederick Gwinner, Jr., an Allegheny millionaire contractor, which was made public Monday.

Gwinner died only a short time before he was to have married Miss Leech, whom he had courted for years. They were engaged for several years before his death, which occurred on April 27.

In the year preceding his death the couple were in each other's company at theatre parties, formal dinners and other social functions. The date for the wedding was set for last spring.

Just a few days before his death, Mr. Gwinner took Miss Leech to a theater. He was attacked by pneumonia upon his return, and the disease quickly killed him.

WOUNDED OFFICER KILLS ASSAILANT

Dead Man Was About 26 Years of Age—Had $182 in His Pockets.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—During a pistol duel Monday night Police man Barnett was shot in the spine and died later in University Hospital. As he fell he shot and killed an unidentified man, supposed to be a burglar. Barnett, who was in plain clothes, had been sent to watch a locality where a number of burglaries had been committed recently.

Two men aroused his suspicions and he followed them.

They separated and he followed one who had entered an alley. When he questioned the man the latter began shooting and the fatal pistol duel followed.

The dead man was about 26 years old. He had $182 in his pockets.

GEORGE F. SEWARD DIES IN NEW YORK

Was Nephew of William H. Seward, Secretary of State Under President Lincoln.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—George F. Seward, President of the Fidelity and Casualty Company, and member of a family which distinguished itself early in American history, died of heart disease Monday at his home 136 West Seventy-third street. He was in his 71st year.

Mr. Seward, who was born in Florida, N. Y., was a nephew of William H. Seward, Secretary of State under President Lincoln, and his grandfather was a Colonel of American troops in the Revolutionary War. After finishing his education in Seward Academy, an institution founded by his family in his native town, he went to Union College, and when little more than 21 years old was attracted to the diplomatic service, being assigned to Shanghai as United States Consul.

A few years later he became Consul General to China, and then Minister Plenipotentiary. From France and Denmark he received decorations. Mr. Seward was President of the North Carolina branch of the Royal Asiatic Society for two years. He was President of the Virginia Electrolytic company, Director in the Virginia Laboratory Company, The Products Company and the Sodium Process Company, a member of the American Geographical Society, the Society of Political and Social Science and Institute of Civics, the Municipal League for Civic Reform, the Philippine Progress Commission, the Lawyers' Club, and was Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURY

Carl Eden, a Student of Transylvania is Thrown to the Floor By Force of Explosion.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 30.—Carl Eden, a student at Transylvania narrowly escaped probable fatal injury as a result of a peculiar explosion of a gasoline pressing iron which occurred in his room on the third floor of Craig Hall about 8 o'clock Monday morning. Eden's room was badly demolished by the force of the explosion, the ceiling being forced upward and the entire side of one wall separating the room from a hall was blown out. A part of the iron which was blown through a window barely missed Eden's face and as it was one side of his head was severely burned. Luckily no fire followed the explosion and in a short while things were cleared up so that no inconvenience will be suffered as a result of the accident.

Eden, who is a Texan, is a student in the Art Department at Transylvania and rooms with Sam Butler, also from Texas. The boys had a gasoline pressing iron or in other words one that would heat itself, gasoline being used in the process. The iron was thoughtlessly put on the floor Monday near a stove in which there was a fire. Suddenly the iron became too hot and exploded. The window was smashed, a part of the wall blown out and the ceiling literally raised from its moorings. Eden who was the only one in the room at the time was knocked down by the force of the explosion. Hearing the terrific noise students hurried to the aid of Eden and found him all right. Although one side of the room was badly damaged the other side seemed not even to have been jarred. A force of men will be put at work immediately repairing the damage.

RESPECTS TO "UNCLE JOE"

Speaker-To-Be Champ Clark Has Private Confab With Speaker Cannon in Latter's Office.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Speaker Cannon and Speaker-to-be Clark had quiet little confab Monday in the former's office and exchanged congratulations, best wishes and regrets. Representative Dalzell and Representative Martin B. Madden, of Chicago, both of whom had narrow escapes from defeat, were present when the outgoing and the incoming Speakers shook hands. There was much good-natured jollifying, and when Mr. Clark left the Speaker's room Mr. Cannon remarked that their talk had been cordial.

"We had our fight out in the campaign and no personal feeling remains," said the Speaker. "I beat you and we have to submit to the inevitable. I always believe in bowing to the will of the majority."

"Oh, I just went up to pay my respects to 'Uncle Joe,'" said Mr. Clark. "I paid them several times during the recent campaign, but I thought I ought to do it in person today."

GOV. MARSHALL IS LAMBASTED

Members of Indianapolis Methodist
Ministers' Association Charges
That He is in Alliance With Brewers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 30.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall was lambasted Monday by members of the Indianapolis Methodist Ministers' Association, which charged he has an alliance with the brewers and saloon keepers. The attack was led by Rev. Demetrius Tillotson, of Lafayette.

Governor Marshall has aroused the clergy by declaring that religion has no place in politics, and that he hasn't a great deal of use for ministers who attempt to dictate to the Legislature what shall be done in the way of reform legislation. He stirred them further by declaring that there is not enough good, old-fashioned religious spirit in the present conduct of churches.

Rev. Tillotson said: "I have a suspicion that the Governor expected that his cynical criticism would draw the applause of a certain type of evangelistic brethren in the church, but as far as I know the only applause it has drawn is from his friends—the brewers and saloon keepers."

Governor Marshall made no reply to the charges. Tuesday night he and Mrs. Marshall left for Frankfort, Ky., where they will attend the conference of Governors of several States. The Governor will deliver an address Friday night at the banquet of the Indiana Club in New York.

STRICT ORDERS TO OFFICIALS

If Any One is Guilty of Negligence in Inspection of Building He Will Be Prosecuted.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 30.—"If I find any city or State official guilty of negligence in the inspection of this building," said County Prosecutor Mott Monday, as he stood by the ruins of the factory in which 24 girls lost their lives by fire last Saturday, "there will be the bitterest sort of prosecution."

"I do not mean to imply," he added, "that I have before me any evidence of criminal negligence, but I do mean that the investigation shall be in earnest. My view is that it ought to take the form of some sort of public hearing, and I think a Coroner's jury will be the most effective instrument."

Accordingly a Coroner's jury was sworn in, the first of its kind that has sat here in 20 years. County physicians ordinarily perform such tasks. There will also be separate inquiries by the grand jury, the State Labor department and the City Building department. The destroyed building was the property of Miss Barbara Glass, who has issued a statement declaring that the structure was adequately equipped with fire escapes.

Funerals of many of the victims were held Monday. Many of the girls and women killed were supporting their families in whole or in part and there is much actual want. A fund for their relief reached $2,000.

General Lewis T. Bryant, State Commissioner of Labor, Monday made an investigation which showed that the owners conformed to all the fire regulations imposed on them by the state.

GOOD CROWDS ATTEND REVIVAL SERVICES

Dr. J. W. Porter Preaches Powerful
Sermon on "Doctrine of Election" as Baptists Believe it.

The revival services at the First Baptist church continue with increased interest. Fine congregations heard Dr. Porter Tuesday morning and night. The sermon, Tuesday morning on "The Doctrine of Election," was pronounced by those who heard it as the greatest and most powerful sermon ever heard in this city on that topic. It was a clear statement of the doctrine as Baptists believe it. The sermon Tuesday night on the Prodigal Son was heard by a fine congregation. The interest was good and the sermon made a lasting impression upon those who heard it.

Dr. Porter will speak at the Wesleyan College Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. There will be service again Wednesday night at the usual hour. The meeting will probably close with this week. Everybody invited to attend these services.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR WATERWAYS

For Fiscal year ending June 30,
1912, will Aggregate $30,095,658
according to Estimates.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 30.—Appropriations needed for river and harbor work for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1912, aggregate $30,095,658, according to estimates made public Monday by Secretary of War Dickinson in the form of a report made to him by Brigadier General W. H. Bixby, Chief of Engineers of the United States army. These figures will be sent to Congress by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, and legislation in accordance therewith will be recommended by President Taft in his annual message. The estimates are divided as follows:

Under continuing contracts, $7,368,077.
Rivers and harbors (general), includingcluding Mississippi River Commission, and examinations, surveys and contingencies, $22,627,361.
Under California Debris Commission (expenses), $15,000.
Prevention of deposits in New York Harbor, $85,260.

Many pet projects calling for the expenditure of large sums have been omitted from the estimates this year. Among these are the fourteen-foot channel from Chicago to the Illinois River, deep channel for the Missouri River from St. Louis to Kansas City and from Kansas City north, as their champions members of both Houses of Congress, who insisted strenuously that these projects be not forgotten.

ABLE SPEECH BY WOODROW WILSON

Is Feature of Opening Day of Third Annual Conference of Governors, in Session at Frankfort.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 30.—In Kentucky's new Capitol, one of the most magnificent State houses in the United States, the Third Annual Conference of Governors convened Tuesday and the executives were received by the people of Frankfort and Kentucky with open arms of welcome. It was a day of history making for Kentucky for, as Mayor James H. Polsgrove said in his speech of welcome in behalf of the people of Frankfort, the city had long been used to one Governor and sometimes two, but never before in its history had it been overwhelmed by such an array of distinguished chief executives of the States of the Union.

There were Governors here from every section of the United States. From the far East and the Golden West, from the land of flowers and the country of the snows came representatives of the States to attend this Governor's Conference.

The feature of the opening day of the conference was the able and scholarly address of Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey.

The "New Nationalism" of Theodore Roosevelt was attacked indirectly and in a most scholarly manner by Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, in his first public utterance since, by being elected Governor, he became a presidential possibility.

"To put Federal law back of the great corporations would have been to give them the right to dominate and override local conditions, to equip them with the majesty and supremacy of the law which created and regulated them and to level the variety of communities before them," he declared.

"We believe in the exercise of the Federal powers to the utmost extent wherever it is necessary that they should be brought into action for the common benefit. But we do not believe the invention of Federal powers either necessary or desirable."

BELMONT TAKES WITNESS STAND

Testifies Concerning the Charge That a $500,000 Corruption Fund Was Raised to Combat Law.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—August Belmont, millionaire horse owner and chairman of the Jockey Club and the Westchester Racing Association, took the witness stand Tuesday and told the legislative investigating committee that he had been persecuted. "And I want to say," he added with emphasis, "that the racing commissions and the jockey club fought the race track bills fairly."

Mr. Belmont is the only one of a trio of prominent men identified with racing whom the committee has been able to get on the witness stand to testify concerning the charge that a $500,000 corruption fund was raised by the racing interests to combat the Hart-Agnew law, prohibiting betting on horse races, which passed the Legislature in 1908.

Keene and Whitney Abroad.

Subpoenas for Mr. Belmont, James R. Keene and Harry Payne Whitney have been out for weeks, all having been mentioned as present at a conference at which the alleged fund was subscribed. Service has not yet been obtained on Keene and Whitney, and their secretaries, both called as witnesses Tuesday, testified that Keene and Whitney were in Europe. The Jockey Club, Mr. Belmont explained Tuesday, is a close corporation of fifty members, brought into being some 10 years ago by men interested in the turf.

He was asked by what authority the Jockey Club had assessed $5,700 on the Coney Island Jockey Club. He replied that the money had not been paid as the result of an assessment but was contributed informally.

SENATOR HALE GIVES OPINION

Is Emphatic in His Declaration That There Will Be No Tariff Legislation in the Coming Session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Senator Eugene Hale, of Maine, Republican leader of the Senate, by virtue of his position as chairman of the party caucus and of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, foresees little of accomplishment in the coming short session of Congress. Beyond the passage of the usual appropriation bill and possibly of an apportionment measure and one providing on ocean mail bounty, he believes no important business will be transacted.

"The Democratic party," he said Tuesday, "has captured the House of Representatives by a great majority and has almost captured the Senate. With the country apparently behind them that party will, I have no doubt, insist upon taking its natural responsibilities."

"Should an expiring Congress, in its last days, undertake by any deathbed action, to rob the victorious party of its natural inheritance, it will be resisted to the utmost and nothing will follow but a protracted struggle which will shut out certain important measures which otherwise perhaps carry in both houses."

Mr. Hale was emphatic in his declaration that there would be no tariff legislation in the coming session. He went so far as to express the conviction that while the President may suggest a general program he will not try to force it on Congress. Mr. Hale made it clear that he was not speaking for the President.

RIOTOUS SCENES IN COLCHESTER

Winston Spencer Churchill, Home
Secretary is Attacked—Thousands Gather, Jeering and Shouting.

COLCHESTER, England, Nov. 30.—Riotous scenes attended the appearance here Tuesday of Winston Spencer Churchill, Home Secretary. Thousands congregated in the streets jeering and shouting.

Many of them gathered around Churchill's carriage at which they threw eggs and other missiles. Many windows in the Liberal headquarters were smashed.

POLITICIANS FIGHTING HARD.

LONDON, England, Nov. 30.—The politicians of all parties are straining every nerve to crowd into a few days the work which, in ordinary elections, is spread over weeks or months. Nearly all the heavy guns were in action Tuesday night.

Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, before beginning a meeting in Albert Hall, where he warmly supported the referendum, described the Government as "puppets, dancing to the tune of John Redmond and his American paymasters."

The Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, spoke at Reading, Chancellor Lloyd-George at Cardiff, John E. Redmond, leader of the nationalists, at Dublin, Winston Spencer Churchill at Colchester, Augustus Birrell, chief of Secretary for Ireland, at Bristol, John Burns, President of the local Government Board, at Battersea, and Austin Chamberlain at Ashton.

The issues are narrowing daily. The conservatives make much of the menace of home rule. They proclaim that the plan of the Liberals for the reform of the House of Lords, means a single chamber government and put to the front their new policy of the referendum.

There is great favor among the Liberals, a feature being the sudden reforming zeal on the part of the Lords, who claim that Lansdowne's referendum scheme is a snare because the parties would be unequally yoked together under it.

SMALL FOUNTAIN INSTALLED.

Mr. G. L. Waincott Wednesday morning installed his small soda fountain in the store of MacNeill & Co. Waincott for the purpose of serving Roxa Kola. Mr. Waincott is considering a proposition of installing several fountains in stores downtown. At these fountains all drink will be served and the only kola product sold in them will be Roxa Kola.

nal Docket is Light.

The December term of the Clark Circuit Court will begin here Monday. Very few cases were filed for this term and it is probable a number of the old ones will be taken up and disposed of. The criminal docket is light also. There are only a few in jail now awaiting trial.

WHEREIN WE ARE WEAK.

Our government is empowered to make treaties with other countries, but in some matters it has no power to carry them out. The exclusion of the Japanese children from the schools of California and the burning of a Mexican in Texas have brought this fact clearly to our minds. A correspondent of the New York Tribune says:

"The late John Hay, when Secretary of State, used to say that the only source of mortification to him in connection with the position was the reply he was obliged to make to foreign governments which demanded redress for injuries to their citizens in this country protected under treaty rights. Instead of being able to give them assurance that prompt investigation would be made by this government and the treaty complied with, he was obliged to say that the United States would do its best to persuade the Governor of the State in which the wrong was committed to take the matter up and deal with it."

"While compelled to assume this anomalous position, humiliating to ourselves and dangerous to the maintenance of cordial relations and peace with other countries, we make demands for the protection of our own citizens direct upon foreign countries and would be very likely to insist if told we must look to the mayor of some South American city where an American had been burnt at the stake without trial, for redress, that we could not deal with any subordinates with whom we had no diplomatic relations, but that if the mayor's responsibility was insisted on, he would best meet our demands promptly or put his city in a state of defence."

"When Congress meets it should hasten to clothe the President and the United States courts with full power to deal in the future with all such cases as the recent burning of a Mexican in Texas. Surely when jurisdiction is given the general government to deal with such minor offenses as smuggling and illegal distilling, which affect nothing but the revenue, it should be instituted where it involves the government's power

THE L. & E. MEANS FOR US.

A look at the map of Kentucky will show the immense advantage that the extension of the L. & E. railroad will mean for this section and especially for Winchester. It opens to the market the richest coal and timber section of the State.

Large forces of men are at work between Jackson, Breathitt county, and Whitesburg, in Leslie county. Whitesburg is but a few miles from the Black Mountain range that divides Kentucky from Virginia. Just south of the Black Mountain range there are already railroads that connect with the seaboard and extend east and west.

Winchester is the first city of importance in going west from this vast undeveloped territory. Our merchants are alive to the situation and are ready for the increased business that is sure to come. It is understood that the L. & N. has purchased the L. & E. and is making the extension.

A rabid partisan paper does its party more harm than it hurts the opposite party.

Kentucky has many things to be proud of, but some of which it is best to keep as a secret in the family until we can make improvements. Among them, our road laws and taxing system.

James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, is continually looking for hard times, but keeps on extending his tracks and pocketing the proceeds of the traffic.

Before doing much talking it is best to know to whom you are talking.

We are asked: "What is bed-time?" We don't know the hour. Our answer is "when you want to go to bed."

When a candidate for office pays out more money than the office is worth, it is unreasonable not to expect him to get it back some way.

The sentiment against the use of intoxicating liquors is growing among the business people. Every employer knows what it means to his business to have men in his service that get drunk.

He Could Not Quite Remember. Voltaire's plaint, "The necessity of saying something, the perplexity of having nothing to say!" might have found an echo in an audience addressed for the third time in one service by an old gentleman famed for his readiness to speak. "I was thinking while sitting here of the words of the poet," said he. "I can't just remember the words, and the name of the poet has gone from me."—Youth's Companion.

HAND FEEDING THE COLT.

May Be Raised on Milk if Done Patiently and Intelligently.

When a mare dies or has no milk for her foal it may be raised on cow's milk if the attendant conducts the work patiently and intelligently. The milk of a cow that has recently calved should be chosen, preferably of one which gives milk low in butter fat, for more's milk, while rich in sugar, is poor in fat. The milk should be sweetened with molasses or sugar and diluted with warm water.

A little of this prepared milk should be given at short intervals from a scalded nursing bottle and large rubber nipple. Care should be taken to keep the bottle and nipple scrupulously clean. An ounce of linewater should be added to each pint of the prepared milk and half a cupful allowed once an hour at first.

As the foal grows the feeder should gradually increase the amount of milk fed and lengthen the intervals between meals. In a few days food may be given six times a day and later four times daily. The foal will soon learn to drink from a pail if allowed to suck the attendant's fingers at first.

Until the bowels move freely rectal injections should be given night and morning. If the foal scours at any time two to four tablespoonfuls of a mixture of sweet oil and pure castor oil shaken up in milk should be given and feeding of milk stopped for two or three meals, allowing sweetened warm water and linewater instead. The foal may lick oatmeal as soon as it will eat, and gradually the amount may be increased and wheat bran added.

In five or six weeks some sweet skim milk may be given and the amount gradually increased daily until, in three months or so, it may be given freely three times a day in place of new milk. The foal at this age also will be eating freely of grass, grains and bran. At all times pure cold drinking water should be supplied.

ABOUT THE COLLIE.

A Good Strong Eye an Important Point in This Dog.

I notice in several papers breeders of Scotch collies advertising collies for sale as "natural heelers," says an expert on collie dogs. Now, that is entirely against the nature of a collie dog, to go to the heel. Any mongrel will run and fetch a hog by the hind end, but a good collie must get to the front.

I shall try to give an idea of how to start training a dog. The trainer must have great patience. "I always let the pup start following me to the pasture when about four months old. Let him go out among the sheep every day without attempting to let him work. He will watch the old dog, and one day when a sheep runs he will make a move to stop it; then only is the time to make a start."

When wanted to go around some sheep get the sheep close to you to allow the dog to go clear around them. The first time call the dog up to your heel. Always start the dog from behind and teach it to stop when at the other side of the sheep. If the dog does right call him to you, pat him on the head and let him understand it is right. If, however, he tries to break in among the sheep call loudly to him, but do not whip him. One or two lessons the first day will be sufficient. Each day increase the lessons.

A dog should be taught to keep out wide from the sheep. A dog that runs too close is not considered a good dog. One of the best points a dog can have is a good strong eye. By that I mean one that will stand and set like a setter, never taking his eye from the sheep. A dog that runs when told and has no eye never makes sure. That is a most important point in a collie dog. Again I say a good strong eye and you need not fear.

When the Cows Are Nervous. It is almost impossible to suggest a cure for some nervous habits in cows. Possibly the teats are sore and tender. If so, rubbing them with sweet oil after each milking might help. Give the cow some favorite food at milking time to distract her attention from the milking act.

Use System in Watering Horses. Painstaking and experienced horsemen have proved beyond a doubt that horses seem to be better nourished when systematically watered before feeding and again two or three hours after.

Sheep Have Few Ailments. Some farmers say they do not keep sheep because they are subject to disease, which is a great mistake, because properly cared for sheep have fewer ailments than any other farm animal.

TRUNK FILLED WITH POWDER

Charge is Set Off By a Hunter Who Accidentally Dropped a Lighted Cigar.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Nov. 30.—With a blinding flash, followed by a terrific explosion, a trunk filled with blasting powder went off in a baggage car standing in the Union Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad late Tuesday night. The big charge was set off by a hunter in the car accidentally dropping a cigar, which ignited some of the powder that had leaked from the trunk.

The car was reduced to splinters and a panic in the train shed followed when a large number of passengers heard the terrific explosion and saw the flames shoot up from the wreck.

Half a dozen railroad detectives scented a "Black Hand" outrage when it was learned that the trunk had been checked from this city to Irwin, which is right in the heart of the Westmoreland coal fields, where a prolonged strike has been on for many months and the feeling runs high against the coal operators.

Joseph Nicola, said to be a "Black Hand" leader that has been operating in the Eastern Ohio District, is alleged to be the man who checked the trunk. He was arrested and is in jail without bail.

BALD HEADED MEN

Ignorance of the Hair Causes Much Baldness Among Men.

Early piety doesn't cause baldness, neither does any kind of piety. Some baldheaded men console themselves with the idea that baldness is caused by a superabundance of gray brain matter, and would have the world believe that a baldhead is a sign of great intellect.

Such, however, is not the case. Ninety-nine times in one hundred, baldness is caused by dandruff germs which dig down deep into the roots of the hair, destroy its vitality and cause it to fall out.

All this may come gradually and take time, but as an up-to-date humorist would say "what's time to a dandruff germ?"

If you have dandruff, the little invisible, persistent devils called dandruff germs are at work. Destroy them at once, or sooner or later they will cause your hair to fall out and you will be compelled to take your place in the baldheaded class.

In France baldheads are few because men understand how to care for the hair. Parisian Sage is a hair grower and invigorator that is guaranteed by Phillips to grow hair if the hair root is not already destroyed, to eradicate dandruff, stop itching scalp, and falling hair, or money back.

50 cents for a large bottle at Phillips and druggists everywhere on money back plan.

very arrangement which God provided—tongues and interpretations of tongues, etc., to draw them together and to instruct them until, in due time, the canon of Scripture would be completed that, through it, the man of God might be thoroughly furnished unto every good word and work (II Tim. III, 10, 17).

By the time the Apostles died the Church had become established, had regular meetings, pastors and teachers, the Gospels and Epistles, and some of them had begun to develop the fruits of the Spirit. Thus the early Church naturally outgrew the tongues and miracles and entered a larger sphere, just as a child leaves its swaddling clothes in favor of more suitable attire. For God's people today to desire to go back to speaking with tongues, etc., such as was practised, and very profitably, in the early Church, would be like an adult person desiring to be dressed and treated as a babe. It is our understanding that the speaking with unknown tongues in religious meetings, which is gradually spreading over the world, is a deception being practised upon earnest children of God, who are deceived by the fallen angels—the demons of the Bible. They are thus ensnared to error and have their attention drawn away from the Truth. To what extent the ministers of Christ of today are responsible for the delusion of these poor people is not ours to determine. Had the spuriousness of the last verses of St. Mark's Gospel been duly pointed out for every pulpit, as soon as the old MSS. were known, some, at least, might have been spared from this snare—some who, under misunderstanding, have been hindered from proper expectations in respect to God's Word and led improperly to expect the power of tongues and miracles suggested in this spurious passage.

NOVEMBER LAMBS AT WEANING TIME.

As a rule, a healthy full mouthed ewe experiences little trouble in lambing, but there will be exceptions, writes J. Pickering Ross in Farm and Fireside. Their actual labor often extends over several hours, but no anxiety need be felt until signs of exhaustion are evident; then, and not until then, manual help should be offered.

When a ewe has been delivered of a lamb which soon gets on its legs to reach for the teat and is successful in his efforts, all that is needed is to see that the udder and teats are clean (if not, they should be bathed with fairly hot water) and a little of the milk drawn off to make sure that the flow is natural. If, however, the lamb fails to get on its legs it must be helped up and assisted to suck. If it is unable to do so it must be fed from a bottle with a rubber nipple or from a teaspoon. It's mother's milk is best. If it should turn out that from some trouble with the udder or the teats or from some other cause she is unable to supply it, milk must be drawn from a ewe that has more than her own lamb needs and be fed as above. The ewe must then be seen to, and if in a day or two she is still without a full supply of milk a foster mother, one which has lost her lamb or which has more than her own lamb needs, must be found and made to adopt this one. This is easily done if she is held a few times until she is used to the lamb.

Ewe's milk is always best, but if it is absolutely necessary that from a fresh cow warmed a little may be used. At the start a spoonful every half hour should be given, gradually increasing the quantity and lengthening the periods between feeding. This will do until a good foster mother is found or until the mother ewe begins to let down milk freely.

Young lambs are very liable to get chilled. When this occurs a bath of water as hot as the hand will bear it should be given at once, succeeded by a thorough drying and hand rubbing. Some warm milk with a little spirits should be given and the lamb wrapped up in an old blanket and laid in front of the fire in the hut.

Constipation is also a common trouble with young lambs. The best remedy for this is injections with a syringe of warm milk or warm water gruel.

THE VALUABLE HOG.

Relation of Pork Production to the Farm Economy.

Hogs by nature are designed especially for the consumption of concentrated feeds, such as grain. Of late years more roughage in the form of pasture has been utilized. This, however, is only one of several important factors. The hog must have the principal part to do with the marketing of the concentrated foodstuffs and by-products, such as milk and wastes from the farm. Where milk is produced in large quantities hogs are almost essential, except in unusual conditions.

Where much corn is grown hogs fit in well. In fact, the hog is a valuable adjunct in the disposition of all the grains and waste byproducts. However, it must be remembered that hogs grown in large numbers are not proportionately so profitable as when a smaller number are grown. Many people have made the mistake of getting overenthusiastic as to the profits to be realized in pork production and have attempted far more than they could efficiently manage, with the result that prospective profits were absorbed in expenses and losses. Here, as elsewhere, success depends on good judgment.

Remedy For Scratches.

Neglecting to perfectly dry the skin of the horse's legs after washing or when wet from rain or snow and allowing horse to stand in cold drafts at such times tends to induce scratches. Never wash the legs from November to May. Keep them dry. At time of trouble pedicure the parts with warm flaxseed meal for a few days; then apply freely twice a day an ointment composed of one dram spirits of camphor, one dram compound tincture of benzoin and two drams flowers of sulphur per ounce of lanolin or lard. In old cases when all treatments fail blistering thoroughly with creote or cantharides often proves effective.

Constipation In Hogs.

All thrift in hogs ceases when constipation is present. Indeed, it may lead to diarrhea because of the dry and inflamed condition of the lining of the intestines. As treatment withhold all dry foods, give plenty of drinking water and a sloppy diet. Sometimes exercise is needed and a dose of castor oil.

MARKETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—WHEAT—

All the foreign news on wheat is bearish this morning. Liverpool is weak and lower and has favorable crop reports from Australia and claims pressure of sales of new Argentine wheat. Spot markets abroad are weaker than futures. There appears to be an over abundance of wheat and heavy situation. There is nothing on this side especially bullish and the thing to guard against is oversold spot in the local trade which may bring back rebound. We think conservative trade can sell wheat on the temporary swells and be in a safe position.

CORN—There has been a stubbornness about corn futures hard to explain the past few days. The small stocks and decrease in visible supply count for little because of the heavy movement which has just started which will soon give Chicago an abundance of corn. Husking period is about over and there is an enormous surplus with less than the usual feeding demand at this season. Such conditions usually result in lower prices because of the already important lowering of the values the depression may be slow from this level.

OATS—Elevator people have their hedges well turned over into May in the oats trade if the country movement increases as seems natural this market should show a sagging tendency especially if there is any depression in corn futures.

PROVISIONS—Gelt says 28,000 hogs are on the market against 28,000 last year. During the first half of October the average weight of hogs was 264 pounds. The heaviest on record and those of last week 230 pounds which was the lightest in seven months shows that the finished hogs are close y marketed and that undoubtedly it is due to the advertised lowering of meat food. Many unfinished ones were sent in regardless of condition. We look for a let up in receipts after this week.

The Small Courtesies of Life.

The way to make yourself pleasing to others is to let them see that you care for them and show people what Sterne called "the small, sweet courtesies of life," those courtesies which make no parade, but which manifest themselves in tender words, little kind acts of affection and giving others the preference in everyday life. These make up the much appreciated "small courtesies."—Homo Notes.

YOUNG WOMEN ENGAGE IN DUEL

Both Loved the Same Young Man, and Sailor Boy Watched Encounter With Interest.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 30.—Because they both loved the same young man, a sailor who, with the famed fecklessness of his profession, found it impossible to choose between them, fought for their love in a veritable battle royal Tuesday morning.

While the sailor boy, prize in the battle, looked on and cheered the contestants with impartial encouragement, the pretty young women pounded each other, bit and gouged and pulled hair, until an unromantic policeman interfered.

The young women fought in masculine fashion and with the earnest vigor of men. The noise attracted Patrolman Baumgarten, who stopped the battle, to the obvious disappointment of the young sailor. Miss Welch was wounded in several places by her opponent's teeth, and a physician was called to dress her injuries. Pending her recovery Miss Brown was taken to the police station, where she is being held.

Tragedy Narrowly Averted.
An alarming subsidence took place at Cleland, Lanarkshire, Scotland caused by the giving way of an old pit shaft. The subsidence occurred under a house and a large cavity was caused at the back door. When the woman of the house, with a child in her arms, made to come out she nearly stepped into a hole ten feet deep. She retained her hold on the door handle, however, and dragged herself back.

Real Rebuke.
The anecdote is still told in Vermont of the reply which Mrs. Chittenden, the governor's wife, made to some squeamish visitors who objected to meeting the farmhands at dinner. "We usually all dine together," said the first lady of Vermont, "but I really think there should be two tables set—the first for the farmhands, because they have been working very hard and must be very hungry, and the second for the rest of us, who can very well wait."

OUR DEAD.

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Osborne was born in Clark county, Kentucky February 14, 1841, married to the late G. H. Osborne 1860, and after a five days' illness of typhoid pneumonia died November 23, 1910, at her home near Arlan, Ky. She was a rare type of Christian womanhood. Sincerity, frankness, unselfishness, purity and love of peace were some of the noble traits of character she possessed. She always greeted her friends and neighbors with a smile and a pleasant word and was ever ready to help those in distress.

Having spent all her life in this and surrounding neighborhoods, she leaves a wide circle of friends to mourn her loss for to know her was to love her. She and I for a long time had been each other's sole companion. The breaking of the ties brings sadness and loneliness. No love can fill the place of mother's. The mother's vacant chair can never be filled by any other. Her absence in the home can never be supplied. She leaves four sons, T. E. and W. G. and J. A. Osborne, of this place, and E. M. Osborne, of Ruckerville.

A precious one from us is gone.
A voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which only Christ can fill.
The golden gates were open wide,
A gentle voice said come,
And angels on the other side
Welcomed dear Grandma home.
